AN INVITATION TO BUILD A MORE HUMAN WORLD

Kerry Kennedy, Sir Richard Leese and Mayor Andy Burnham invite you to join 130 cross-sector senior decision-makers from the business, finance and technology communities to explore how you and your organisation can be champions for the creation of a more human world.

The future is uncertain. Yet we know that, if humanity is to succeed, we need to create a world in which everyone can thrive. Business as usual is no longer enough – if we are to create a future that truly serves humanity, human rights must be a dynamic in business that goes beyond compliance: they must be at the heart of organisational leadership, strategy and culture.

In 1964, Robert F. Kennedy observed that “The power to act is the power to command resources.” Nearly half of the world’s hundred largest economies are public companies, giving them a special role in making human rights reality.

The Ripples of Hope Business & Investment Summit is an opportunity and space for you to pause and reflect on your role as a leader in creating our shared future. Over an intensive one-day programme facilitated by leadership development experts Leaders Quest, you and your peers will:

- Discuss the likely impact of the dynamics shaping our future.
- Ask challenging questions about how businesses have to adapt.
- Work together on critical systemic challenges – and how your organisations need to respond.
- Learn from each other – and from others who are taking innovative action.
- Gain practical insights into the skills required to lead amid rapid disruption.

You will also be special guests at Ripples of Hope – an evening of art, music, culture that explores what it means to be a ripple of hope and build a better future. The highlight will be an unforgettable conversation with a global leader who has transformed what we believe to be possible.

Each time a person stands up for an ideal,
or acts to improve the lot of others,
or strikes out against injustice,
they send forth a tiny ripple of hope.

And crossing each other from a million different centres
of energy and daring,
those ripples build a current which can sweep down
the mightiest walls of oppression and resistance.

THE AGENDA

THURSDAY 30th JANUARY 2020

0930-1000 ARRIVALS AND NETWORKING

1000-1230 AN UNCERTAIN FUTURE - OPENING PLENARY AND PANEL DISCUSSION

Senior business, finance and thought leaders share their view on the dynamics changing our world.

1230-1330 NETWORKING LUNCH

1330-1530 RE-IMAGINING THE FUTURE facilitated by LeadersQuest

How do we respond to the dynamics changing our world? Delegates will choose one of four systemic challenges and explore in a group how it could affect their businesses and the communities that they are connected to – and what actions their organisations need to take to meet those challenges, be successful and contribute to a future for humanity.

1530-1730 LEADERSHIP FOR THE FUTURE facilitated by LeadersQuest

To meet these challenges will require transformational leadership. An interactive facilitated session to engage with, reflect on and take with you some of the essential skills leaders need to build a more human world.

1730-1800 IT'S IN OUR POWER - CLOSING PLENARY

Our keynote speakers will provide their reflections on the day's discussion and offer a call to action for how leaders can create ripples of hope through the work they do.

1800-1930 NETWORKING DINNER AND DRINKS

1930-2130 RIPPLES OF HOPE – AN EVENING TO CHANGE THE WORLD

Art, culture, music, and a conversation with a transformational global leader.

Please note that timings are indicative.

BE PART OF A GROUNDBREAKING INITIATIVE: THE RIPPLES OF HOPE FESTIVAL

The Ripples of Hope Business & Investment Summit is a part of and supports the creation of the first-ever Ripples of Hope Festival, developed by Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights UK.

To be publicly announced at the evening event on 30th January 2020, The Ripples of Hope Festival will take place across Greater Manchester on 11th-14th February 2021.

Supported by Manchester City Council and the Greater Manchester Combined Authority, we are bringing together the arts, business, communities, activists, NGOs and the public to tell a new local and actionable story about human rights - one that is rooted in communities and the everyday.

The Festival will

- build public understanding of and support for human rights;
- create artistic and cultural engagement with the cause of furthering human rights;
- promote human rights education for young people;
- strengthen the community activism & human rights ecosystem; and
- promote human rights as a vital strategic imperative in the business and investment community.

Curated by Jude Kelly CBE, the Festival will consist of a range of cultural, artistic and human rights related formats and content, from workshops and creative collaborations to debates, awards and concerts. These activities – alongside the Business & Investment Summit - may include:

- A Young People's Day that builds on our education programme to demonstrate the power of young people to demand and create change;
- 'In Conversation With...' events that brings together human rights activists and artists, including globally-known figures, to explore how we can make human rights reality;
- Ripples of Hope Film Festival that shares films that bring the ideals of Ripples of Hope to life;
- Artistic Commissions that convene national and international artists, writers and musicians to re-tell the story of human rights and our power to create change for the 21st Century;
- Human Rights Trailblazers, which is a history exhibit that shares the many different stories of people who have made change possible; and
- The Ripples of Hope Awards that recognise community organisations that are doing the work of making human rights reality.

The Festival will be a space for collaboration and learning as well as a platform for celebration and commitment to the cause of making human rights reality. Our vision is to build the Festival to be an international events platform by 2025.

WHY GREATER MANCHESTER THIS IS THE PLACE

Greater Manchester is the ideal home of The Ripples of Hope, as it presents a powerful combination of heritage, culture, community and possibility:

Historic Significance: Greater Manchester has a proud history of social and economic progress. As the home of the Industrial Revolution, it inspired global worker rights movements. The people of Manchester campaigned for universal suffrage at Peterloo and women's suffrage through Emmeline Pankhurst and the WSPU. The Lancashire mill workers sided with Abraham Lincoln and the Union, suffering a famine because they did so, as they refused to touch raw cotton picked by slaves under the Confederacy.

Cultural Significance: Greater Manchester is renowned for its artistic and cultural influence, having produced some of the UK's most significant and influential artists of every type, underpinned by the belief that arts and culture have the power to change lives.

Community: As it demonstrated once more so powerfully in 2017, Greater Manchester has a strong sense of community and passion that chimes strongly with a human rights, people-focused agenda. Its diverse community, facing complex challenges, is home to a thriving and innovative social impact sector, which we hope to help showcase to the world.

A dynamic city built on a thriving and forward-looking economy: With distinctive strengths in science, advanced manufacturing, culture and creative and digital business sectors, Greater Manchester is well placed to continue and accelerate the transformation of the past two decades. As such, it will be a place that finds the answers to the world's future challenges, as it has done so often before.

Greater Manchester is a place that has helped shape the world. Whether it is in industry, science or culture Manchester has always pioneered new ways of working and thinking and has, in doing so, transformed itself into a modern cosmopolitan powerhouse.

That's why the first-ever Ripples of Hope Festival will not only take place in Greater Manchester – it will also be created, designed and developed in partnership with its people. Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights UK is also investing in the region by launching our human rights education programme in schools across Greater Manchester.

ABOUT US

ROBERT F. KENNEDY HUMAN RIGHTS UK

Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights UK exists to inspire and empower people to make decisions and take actions every day that will help make human rights reality for all – to become Ripples of Hope in their communities and across the world.

We do that by creating spaces and opportunities for people of all walks of life to:

- understand and engage with the concept of human rights to inspire their own beliefs for what our society should be;
- articulate what they believe;
- be able to see when human rights are abused or are not yet reality; and
- make decisions and take actions to defend, champion and advance human rights in every part of our daily lives and our society.

We believe that human rights are not simply ideals or beliefs to be held – they are a guide to be used and acted on in every day decision making, until they are made reality for all. Alongside the Festival, we are also delivering a transformative human rights education programme in schools across Greater London and Greater Manchester.

Founded in June 2018, Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights UK is incorporated in the UK as a limited company (11397556) and registered with the Charity Commission of England & Wales (1181744).

We are proud and honoured to be affiliated to, and to be building on the work of, Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights in the US, which is led by human rights activist Kerry Kennedy and was founded after Robert F. Kennedy's presidential campaign in 1968 by his family and friends to achieve Bobby's dream of a more just and peaceful world.

ABOUT US

OFFICIAL CORPORATE PARTNERS

Private capital, social conscience.

53° CAPITAL serves to create a fairer world. We are cultivating a regenerative system of businesses which rewrites:

- what it means to work for a living
- what it takes to drive superior financial returns
- what business networks look like that are powered by being both: human and data & technology enabled.

We are inspiring a more constructive and generative relationship with capital for the 21st century and beyond. We marry generating superior financial returns for our investors with practising sufficiency. We want our investors and our employees to make good money, and we have designed a vibrant regenerative business system that, on top of that, will generate a surplus of investment returns to be channelled into social impact projects. As our network grows, our collective practice and expertise will enrich and empower every part of it.

Together we can restore belief in the idea that abundance for all is within our gift.

Who are 53° Capital?

We at 53° Capital buy and synergistically scale financial services e-commerce companies across Europe. Our particular skill set is in smartly working with data, technology and creative human endeavour within and across businesses to generate superior financial returns. Focusing on the human qualities of the business leaders and leadership teams with whom we partner, we are enabling them to grow, flourish and establish themselves as the best workplaces in the world. For 53° Capital, leadership and organisational culture are a vital ingredient for success.

We are the brainchild of Jason Stockwood and Chris Slater, two well weathered entrepreneurs in the insurance and e-commerce world. Previously, Jason and Chris founded and scaled Simply Business, a leading UK insurance distribution platform with accredited B-Corp status and twice winner of The Sunday Times Best Company. Now Jason and Chris have brought together a handful of individuals from widely differing walks of corporate lives with the technical expertise, business acumen and leadership experience and skill to scale financial e-commerce companies more successfully.

LEADERS' QUEST

LEADERS' QUEST works with CEOs and their teams to equip them for the demands of the 21st century. Our goal is to help leaders find their inspiration in building a sustainable, more inclusive world. We help them drive transformation through wisdom, compassion and the ability to grasp diverse perspectives.

Since 2001, we've delivered 300+ transformational programmes for more than 8,000 senior business leaders across a wide variety of sectors in 24 countries. Our clients include some of the world's most prominent companies across all sectors, as well as entrepreneurs and non-profits.

Together with mission-aligned organisations; we create the space for lasting change. Working at the intersection of strategy, culture and purpose, we see business as a force for good.

MANCHESTER CITY COUNCIL

Manchester City Council is supporting The Ripples of Hope Festival and Business & Investment Summit. Through our co-design process we are working to ensure that Ripples of Hope makes a significant contribution to the delivery of the Our Manchester strategy and its vision for Manchester to continue to grow as a thriving, global city that draws strength from its unique dynamism, culture and community.

HOME

HOME is Manchester's centre for international contemporary art, theatre and film that opened in 2015. Since its opening, we have welcomed over 2.3m visits to an international programme of over 20,000 events in our cinemas, theatres and galleries. We also work to support and build the creative potential of artists in the region. HOME are delighted to be the Co-Production Partners of The Ripples of Hope Festival.

Gross National Product counts air pollution and cigarette advertising, and ambulances to clear our highways of carnage. It counts special locks for our doors and the jails for the people who break them. It counts the destruction of the redwood and the loss of our natural wonder in chaotic sprawl. It counts napalm and counts nuclear warheads and armoured cars for the police to fight the riots in our cities.

Yet the gross national product does not allow for the health of our children, the quality of their education or the joy of their play. It does not include the beauty of our poetry or the strength of our marriages, the intelligence of our public debate or the integrity of our public officials. It measures neither our wit nor our courage, neither our wisdom nor our learning, neither our compassion nor our devotion to our country.

It measures everything, except that which makes life worthwhile.
